WHAT IS FUN?

We asked consumers just that! We conducted an online consumer survey in July 2014. The overall goal of the survey was to gain insight into how consumers in the U.S. define fun as it relates to food, beverages, places and activities. 294 respondents completed the survey. Take a peek at the results.
What is the first word that comes to mind when you hear the word “fun?”

We asked our consumers to give us one word to define fun. The top responses include: laughter, happy, smile and family.

Top responses in each category indicated by word size.
How do you define fun?

We received a variety of different responses. The majority of the responses include participating in activities with others. From food and drinks by the pool to adventures, our consumers sure know how to have fun.
What is your favorite fun food?
The top responses include: ice cream and pizza.
What is your favorite fun beverage?

The top responses include mostly alcoholic beverages, but some others are listed as well. Top beverages include: beer, margarita and lemonade.

Top responses in each category indicated by word size.
What is your favorite place to go for fun?

Top responses include: beach, park and outdoors.

Top responses in each category indicated by word size.
What is your favorite thing to do for fun?

The responses for favorite thing to do for fun are very similar to the responses for defining fun. The majority of the responses relate to sports, outdoor activities, family and friends.

“Charades.”

“Play sports.”

“Learning new skills like dancing or laughing in response to comedies.”

“Comedy club.”

“Taking a nature walk and taking in all of the sights, sounds and smells.”

“Playing pee- wee golf with my grandsons.”

“Go to Disney World.”

“Spending time with family & friends.”

“Listening to live music.”

“Camping.”
Say Cheese!
We asked our consumers to submit a photo that best describes what fun means to them. The responses are fabulous!
